A customized full-color cover, writing services and re-writes, editing, text revisions, typesetting, ISBN, and commercial website interface are included in the publication process. Your book is placed on multiple websites including Amazon and Barnes and Noble. We engage a wonderful team of professionals who will serve you well. Their work is nothing short of superior. Price range: $10,995.00 to $20,995.00 not including the cost of books. There is never a minimum order of books required. Superior Package books can be manufactured as either softcover or hardcover.

eBooks: CTP interfaces with manufactures to provide books in an eBook format. Terms and prices vary. We work with our authors to assure they receive the right eBook arrangement for their specific works and applications. Many variables exist and should be considered in eBook publication and distribution. We will work with you to find the best options for you.

Fee Structures: Certain fees apply on the anniversary date of a published work and for additions and resubmissions after a work is published. We design custom logos, too.

Here's the information for 2022:

1. Annual Catalog Renewal Fee: on the anniversary date of a published work a fee of $55.00 is assessed, payable to Creative Team Publishing. Payment of this fee keeps the book in the Creative Team Publishing and Ingram catalogs. This fee is charged per ISBN.
2. The addition of a hardcover or softcover edition to an already existing edition of any work, per ISBN: a fee of $650.00 is assessed to cover formatting, cover adjustments, and file uploads, payable to Creative Team Publishing.
3. Resubmission of any work, per ISBN, for internal and/or external alterations: a fee of $450.00 per ISBN is assessed and is payable to Creative Team Publishing.
4. Logo Development: We custom-design logos. Branding is vital for authors and their books. Fees range from $650.00 to $950.00+ depending on complexity, and are paid directly to Creative Team Publishing. These logos are "buy-outs" where upon payment the author or owner of copyright owns the logo designed by Creative Team Publishing.

CTP's Special Teams Package!

In many instances authors request help with their writing processes or demonstrate specific requirements that need to be addressed to complete their writing projects with excellence.
Some authors request ghost writing services or co-authorship arrangements.
Other authors request custom art and color photography insertion.
Still others want us to provide a company or personal logo, or crest, to enhance brand identification and marketability.
CTP provides these services and more to complement and enhance your Superior Package.

Our Special Teams Package includes a wide array of writing and artistic services, to create, enhance, and complete your manuscript. These are priced separately. Examples:

1. Ghost writing: Ghost writing is the process where a manuscript is written by a person other than the author in cooperation with an author's input and wishes, where the author's name appears as the exclusive owner of copyright. Generally, ghost writing is defined as a "work for hire" where money paid to the ghost writer constitutes payment in full for services rendered. Copyright is not granted to the ghost writer. Copyright ownership is the property of the person who hires the ghost writer. Various arrangements can apply and each project is considered and decided individually based on the needs of the exclusive owner of copyright. Fees are quoted per project.
2. Artwork: Many books call for artistic contributions to illustrate text. We work with gifted artists who can supply designs and compelling artistic representations for your book, in color or black and white. Fees are commensurate with the project and are priced separately.
3. Color photography: CTP can include color photography as part of your book text. We use professional and gifted photographers for your pictures, or you can submit your own. Choices of print and paper can be made from a variety of print quality options.
4. Logos: Individuals and organizations often use logos for identification, branding, and promotion. We can design and create customized logos for you. Logos can be used in your book, website, printed media, and more. Fees are commensurate with the project and are priced separately.
5. Audio books: A team of recording professionals can record your book. These recordings can be made available on an expanding array of distribution media. Audio recording can be done "dry" (voice only) or with musical enhancement. Fees are commensurate with the project and are priced separately.
6. Music, Original, Recorded, or Published: Do you want to create a theme song or a collection of songs that you would make available as part of your book project? Glen Aubrey, owner of Creative Team Publishing is an Emmy® Award Winning Song Writer (2012). He and his production team can work with you or your exclusive owner of copyright to provide music for your publication that can be utilized in an ever-expanding array of distribution outlets.
7. Giveaways or Saleable Products for Marketing and Distribution: Many authors provide marketing incentives in the form of items to be given away as expressions of appreciation, or sold separately to enhance branding and customer loyalty. Our team of gifted artisans will help you design the quality accessory products that will best serve you and your customers.

We call this package Special Teams because highly gifted people with remarkable talents are engaged to fulfill the special needs your manuscript and promotion efforts may require. Their work is nothing short of spectacular. If your manuscript is accepted for publication, we invite you to consider our Special Teams Package along with your Superior Package.

Consider your publishing venture in light of these offers.
